

Uijeongbu, a healthy and hopeful city with happy citizens

議政府 Uijeongbu Origin of name
About 600 years ago when Taejo Yi Seong-gye was returning to Hanyang from Hamheung, he stayed temporarily in Jeonjwa Village of Howon-dong and royal vassals traveled all the way here to report to him, the father of the current king and a former king himself, on national affairs and ask for his approval. Thus, the area began to be called Uijeongbu, which was also the name of the highest legislative agency in the Joseon Dynasty.

Historic Tourist Area

Sarangchae (Men's Quarters) of Park Sedang's Historic Home

Gyeonggi-do Cultural Material No. 93
Sarangchae, or men's quarters, of Park Sedang's Historic Home was where Seogye Park Sedang, a Silhak scholar in the late Joseon Dynasty, lived in retirement. Though the stains of time are present, this is also how the place still maintains the dignity of an old scholar's residence.

Songsan Temple Site

Gyeonggi-do Monument No. 42
A place that enshrined the ancestral tablets of Jo Gyeon, Won Seon, Yi Jung-in, Gim Ju, Gim Yang-nam and Yu Cheon, 6 vassals of the Goryeo Dynasty who kept their loyalty to Goryeo by not participating in the foundation of Joseon and, instead, lived in seclusion. Also, rituals were held here as well in admiration of their ways.

- 296, Millak-ro, Uijeongbu-si (Millak-dong)

Yeokjeon Neighborhood Park

It is the hub of historical tourism in Uijeongbu that is also home to a statue of An Jung Geun, the Statue of Peace, March First Independence Monument, Berlin Wall, Korea America friendship promotion symbol monument, a sculpture commemorating the 50th anniversary of Uijeongbu becoming a city, and a tourist information center.

- 100, Simin-ro, Uijeongbu-si (Uijeongbu-dong)

Mangwol Temple

Gyeonggi-do Traditional Temple No. 8
The oldest Buddhist temple in Uijeongbu, Mangwol Temple was built in 639, the 8th year of the reign of Queen Seondeok, the 27th ruler of Silla, by Monk Haeho with the command of the queen to praise the prosperity of the royal family. It was named Mangwolsa with the meaning of hope going towards Wolseong, Seorabeol.

Natural Tourist Area

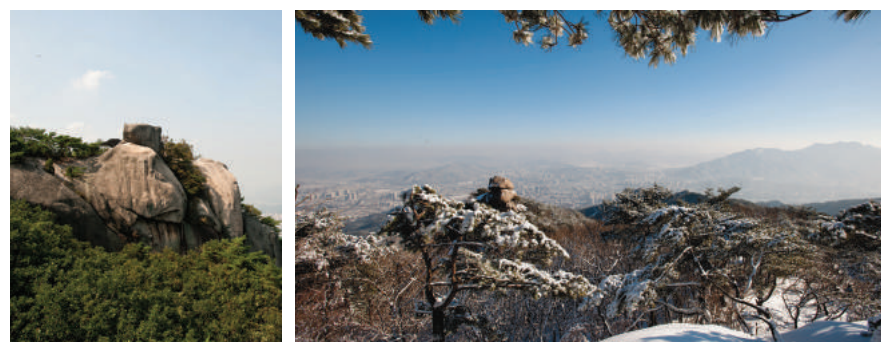

Mt. Wondobong

Mt. Wondobong, forming the boundary of Uijeongbu, Yangju and Dobong-gu, is a popular attraction that greets many tourists throughout the year thanks to its flowers in spring, clear water in summer, maple leaves in fall and snowy scenery in winter.

Mt. Surak

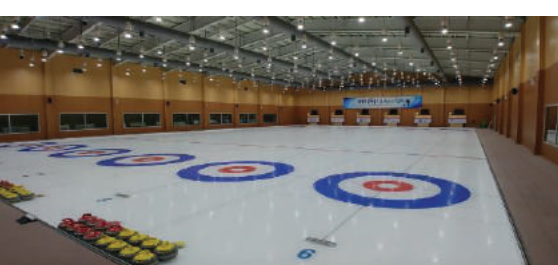

You may see a variety of rocks named after their unique shapes, including Gicha Rock and Cheolmo Rock while an unhindered, panoramic view enjoyed for the entire duration of a hike elevates Mt. Surak to one of the great mountains in the metropolitan area.

Mt. Sapae

The name "Sapaesan" originated from the fact that the mountain was bestowed on Princess Jeonghui, the 6th daughter of King Seonjo of the Joseon Dynasty, by Seonjo when she was married to Yujeongnang. Because of the beautiful scene created on rocks by golden sunshine, it was also called Geumbuyong (golden lotus flower).

Downtown Tourist Area

Haengbok-ro

Haengbok-ro, a small shelter in the midst of the city, has been transformed from a central road for cars into a rest area featuring tall pine trees, manmade ponds and streamlets. It is widely loved by citizens as a wonderful attraction filled with things to see and eat as well as things to do for fun.

- 1 Area, Haengbok-ro, Uijeongbu-si (Uijeongbu-dong)

Rodeo Street

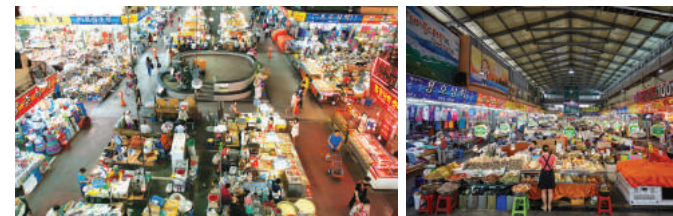

Rodeo Street is filled with the passion of youth. The place is often visited by the younger generation who want fun and chic experiences at arcades, inexpensive restaurants, clothing shops, etc. It can be seen as close to the Hongdae street of Seoul so the area is a popular meeting and dating place for friends and young couples.

- 20, Taepyeong-ro 73beon-gil, Uijeongbu-si (Uijeongbu-dong)

Budaejigae Street

The jigae which people used to eat as a last resort to soothe their hunger has now become a dish that everyone loves. This is the Budaejigae street where you can experience the true taste of the soup that cannot be mimicked anywhere else in the country.

Jaeil Market

Boasting a 50-year tradition, Jaeil Market is the backbone of the local commercial district that contains both the tradition of Uijeongbu commerce and the modern consumer life, and is connected to various themed streets. The commercial tradition of Darakwon and Jangsuwon, which dominated the logistics of the northeastern part of Korea during the Joseon Dynasty, was passed down in the form of a 5-day market amidst the lives of the common people and has continued into today's Jaeil Market.

- Taepyeong-ro 73beon-gil Area, Uijeongbu-si (Uijeongbu-dong)

Green Street

Green Street is one of the themed streets located between Jaeil Market and Haengbok-ro. Having benchmarked Myeongdong of Seoul, it was created as a pleasant shopping space with signs and sidewalks organized as well as rest areas and sculptures installed. It has now become one of the purest and cleanest attractions of Uijeongbu.

Culture Experience Tourist Area

Arts Center

Since its opening in 2001, Uijeongbu Arts Center has been serving as a culture supplier in not only Uijeongbu but also the northern Gyeonggi-do and northeastern Seoul areas through outstanding performances and exhibitions. Due to its especially high-quality performances, it started the trend of "reverse viewing trips" through which audience members from Seoul visit the Uijeongbu Arts Center.
